New date

The Stables Art Gallery plans to host a reception for the children’s art show, “People,” on Saturday (March 30) from 2-4 p.m., not Sunday (March 31) as reported in last week’s Tempo.

Free listing

The Taos News is getting ready to publish its Sommer Visitor's Guide. Any organization in Taos County planning an art opening, musical event, athletic event, fund-raiser, workshop, etc. between May 23 and Sept. 1 should apply for a free listing in our summer calendar of events. Stop by The Taos News office and fill out a form or mail your information to The Taos News, P.O. Box 1, Taos, NM 87571. Deadline is April 19.

Country dance

A bluegrass and country dance with Rocksalt & Nails with guest Mike Stauffer is scheduled at Anglada's Building Friday (March 29) from 6-11 p.m. Anglada's Building is located 1.5 miles east of Taos Plaza on Kit Carson Road. Admission is $5. Rocksalt & Nails combines the by-play of Johnny Harris, the upright bass of Raymond Blanchet and the vocals of Melody Elwell.

High Desert

A musical presentation by Taos music group ‘High Desert’ is planned tonight (March 28) at Anglada's Building at 8 p.m. The new-age duo includes Raymond Blanchet and John Patrick Lamkin. Admission is $5.

Veteran's memorial

Los Alamos Art in Public Places announces a competition for a proposed Veteran's Memorial to recognize the military service of local residents. A $5,000 commission is budgeted.

Artists must be residents of New Mexico and over 18 years of age. Submit five slides and a resume to Ann Gomes, New Mexico Arts Division, 234 East Palace Ave., Santa Fe 87501, or call Jean Visscher at 682-8999.

Folk-art training

The New Mexico Arts Division is offering several folk art apprenticeships. Master artists are encouraged to apply to train apprentices, and apprentices who have some degree of skill and a serious commitment to a master artist are also encouraged. Grants from $1,750 to $3,500 are awarded. For more information and application, contact the New Mexico Folk Arts Coordinator at 827-8490. Deadline is April 15.
