By DAVID LEBOVITZ

AIRFIELD COUNTY is beginning to look and sound unfamiliar these days — ever-less, when you look up.

Not that the county is any different. Even the fields aren't any different, but there's a feeling that you're no longer in Illinois. White clouds drift slowly across the sky.

The airfield is a place of peace and tranquility. It's where people come to fly, and to enjoy the beauty of the sky.

The area is home to many different types of planes, including some rare and unique models. The sound of the engines is soothing, and the sight of the planes taking off and landing is beautiful.

The weather is always clear, and the air is fresh.
It's a perfect place to spend time with friends and family.

On weekends, the airfield is even more crowded, with visitors coming from all around to watch the planes take off and land.

Overall, the airfield is a wonderful place to visit and enjoy the beauty of flying and the freedom of the sky.