

Townes Van Zandt to appear as guest

Appearing with John Lee Hooker at Bunky's, Sunday and Monday, will be musical poet Townes Van Zandt. Described as a cross between Leonard Cohen and Woody Guthrie, Van Zandt sings a few standard folk songs and blues, but mostly he performs his own material.

This Texas native has watched old pals Jerry Jeff Walker and Guy Clark make it big in the national spotlight, while he remained in the shadows with a strange grin. Meanwhile, Van Zandt continues to draw good crowds in clubs across the country, appearing on such TV shows as Merv Griffin, Mike Douglas and the Saturday Night Special, and is guest-starred in the recent film "New Country."

Critics hailed his compositions and performance on the Poppy album, "The Late, Great Townes Van Zandt." Emmylou Harris even "borrowed" one of his tunes, "Pancho and Lefty," for her "Luxury Liner" LP.
