

A massive array of talent has been assembled to perform at Sunday's benefit for Dottie Buchanan at Texadelphia. Dottie is the widow of Austin singer/songwriter Clyde Buchanan, who died in 1984, and her own medical bills recently have mounted to the point where friends are stepping in to help.

Starting at 2 p.m., a long line of entertainers will take the stage, including Boomer Norman, Jane Quisenberry, Gary Wimmer, Leon Carter, Dave Scheidel, Dorinda Moore, Blaze Foley, P. Berry Dove, Jubal Clark, Pat Belen, Lady Jake, George Ensle, Calvin Russell and more. Also scheduled to appear on the way to and fro out-of-town gigs are Rusty Wier, Allen Damron, Tim Henderson, Lillian Standfield, Townes Van Zandt, Olin Murrell and Mark Luke Daniels, who runs Texadelphia's Tuesday night open mike session.
